Two-Gallon Blood Donors Recognized

Some give; others don't, when it comes to the Red Cross blood donor program.

These five men are among the 15 local two-gallon donors who will donate a pint of blood again on Thursday when the Regional Bloodmobile returns to the city. It will be stationed at the First Methodist Church from 12 noon to 6 p.m.

The quota is 125 pints and 56 more donors are needed.

Other members of the "Two-Gallon Club" are F. C. Alexander, Richard Jackson, David Kachner, Albert Zimmerman, D. E. Starbuck, John E. Rance, R. P. Wainosky, Michael Schuller, Donald L. Reedy and George Hanson.

Salem also has 99 one-gallon donors.

The city has failed to reach its quota in the last four visits of the Bloodmobile, but Mrs. Hobart Butcher, Red Cross chapter executive secretary, is confident that sufficient volunteers will call her office to register. "Walk-ins" at the church will be accepted, too.

Congressmen's Spending Cited

One Paid $103 Daily For Hotel Lodging

WASHINGTON (AP)—A member of the House Committee on Un-American Activities has spent as much as $103 a day for hotel lodging during out of town committee hearings, the Knight newspaper said today.

The copyright story by Don Oberdorfer and Walter Pincus said House expense records also show that the committee:

1. Used public funds to pay a $90 bill run up at a night club in one evening.

2. Hired chauffeur-driven limousines on three occasions at an average cost to the public of $25 a day.

3. Used committee funds to repay the Library of Congress for the loss of such books as "Two Little Confederates, the Story of Frank and Willy in Old Virginia," and "The Sex Education of Children."

The story said committee member Morgan Moulder (D-Mo) spent $40.85 a day for accommodations at the Sheraton-Jefferson Hotel in St. Louis in 1956; $52.50 a day at the Plaza in New York in 1957; $282.17 for a three-day stay at the Plaza in 1958, and $523.84 for five days at the Statler-Hilton in Los Angeles, an average of $103 a day.

The story said Moulder paid $6.05 of the Los Angeles bill himself, to cover valet and laundry charges. The rest was paid from committee funds, approved by Chairman Francis Walter (D-Pa.).

Walter said the hotel rooms, which often included a sitting room, were used as "an office or place to interrogate witnesses or a place where people with information can come." Moulder said they were used for "executive sessions."

Moulder also signed for $179 in restaurant charges in one day in

Would Counter Rising Leftist Opposition

TOKYO (AP)—Japanese conservatives today made plans to rally 600,000 Japanese to give President Eisenhower a rousing welcome, counteracting leftist demonstrations against his visit.

Prime Minister Nobusuke Kishi's Liberal-Democratic party and Japanese business leaders joined in a "National Welcome Ike Committee" to ensure a warm reception when the President arrives June 19.

An organized reception for the President was made necessary by mounting leftist opposition to the visit and student threats to stage a giant sit-down strike on the runways of Tokyo's International Airport to impede the President's landing.

Behind the students are Socialists, Communists and left-wing labor groups contending that Eisenhower's visit amounts to interference in the bitter dispute over

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. J. William Fulbright (D-Ark) voiced his full support today for Senate ratification of the new U.S.-Japanese security treaty in advance of President Eisenhower's visit to Japan.

He and other members of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, of which Fulbright is chairman, said they are convinced Eisenhower will go to Tokyo June 19 unless the Japanese government should ask a delay.

The White House said Tuesday "no change is contemplated" in plans for the three-day visit.

Secretary of State Christian A. Herter gave the committee what Fulbright called a "persuasive case" in support of a trip now,

Committees to Discuss City Finances Tuesday

Panel Deliberated Six Hours

Hargrove Found Innocent by Jury

PAINESVILLE, Ohio (AP)—A jury today acquitted Floyd E. Hargrove of the Christmas Eve sniper slaying of Charles R. Clark, husband of the woman he loved.

The 35-year-old former truck driver heard the verdict after less than six hours of deliberation by the jury of 11 men and one woman. His trial lasted more than three weeks. Hargrove was charged with first-degree murder.

At 6:40 p.m. last Christmas Eve a bullet crashed through the kitchen window of the Clark home in Mentor, killing the 35-year-old engineering executive, boy scout leader and former Sunday school superintendent.

A few hours later Hargrove was picked up by police who knew he had been having a love affair with Clark's pretty brunette wife, Lois, 31, a mother of four children.

Announced Confession

On Christmas Day authorities announced a "confession." But two days later Hargrove was given a lie detector (polygraph) test which apparently cleared him, and he repudiated the confession.

Tipped off that Hargrove had bought a rifle in Chardon two days before the slaying, police arrested him again. Under the influence of a so-called "truth serum" (sodium amytal) he made another "confession" and later led police to a spot where a rifle was found.

Hargrove testified of his love affair with Mrs. Clark, but denied killing her husband, saying he was driving from Painesville to visit some friends in Willoughby when the slaying occurred.

Testified About Affairs

Mrs. Clark testified that she had affairs with several men, including Hargrove, but said they had agreed to stop seeing each other.

The defense blamed the shooting on a stray shot from some unidentified person, possibly a boy, who could have been breaking targets in the area. The state presented evidence intended to show the fatal bullet came from the rifle attributed to Hargrove, but the defense countered with testimony the slug was too flattened to be identified.

Defense Attorney Robert L. Simmons told the jurors Tuesday that "authorities merely looked for the latest lover of Lois Clark and got their man."

All juvenile cases have been postponed until Judge Tobin returns.

Fluoridation Measure Killed At Columbiana

COLUMBIANA — Fluoridation of the water supply was defeated Tuesday night when a 4-2 Council vote against the proposal killed an ordinance which had stirred up within the last several weeks more controversy than any other public issue in the community's history.

The village council decision caps a long series of meetings on a proposal to fluoridate the village water supply, a program which drew increasingly heavy opposition from the time of its formal introduction in April up to a public hearing type council meeting on May 17.

Voting against the ordinance last night were Councilmen William Arn, who noted in advance that regardless of how he voted he, "personally" was in favor of fluoridation; Robert Ferrall, Dale Klingensmith and Harry Fullerton.

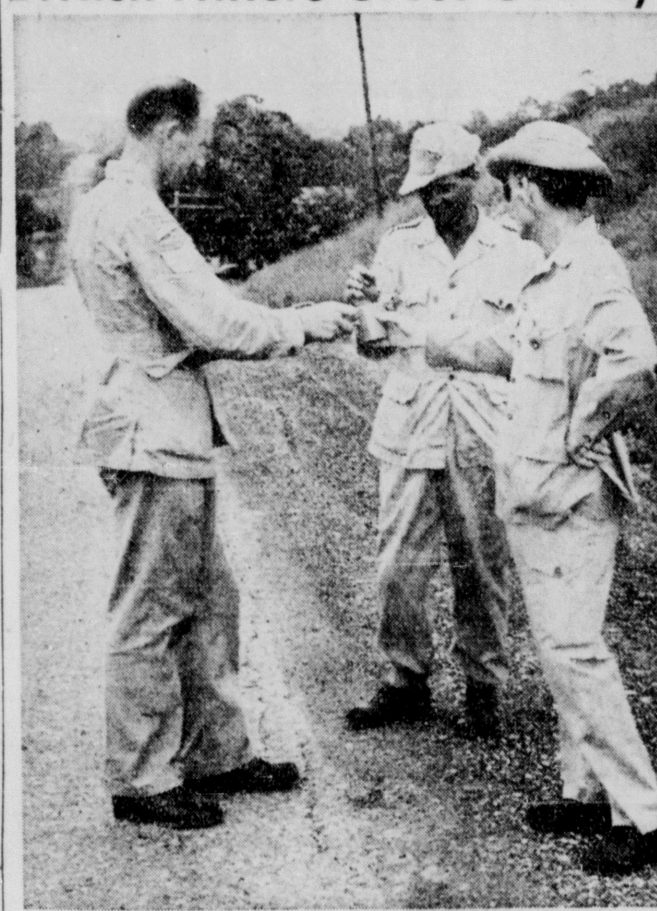

Voting in favor of fluoridation were Councilmen Wayne Paulson and Lee Harrold.

Paulson and Harrold voted in favor of the ordinance at each of its three formal readings, and Fullerton voted as consistently against.

Ferrall voted in favor on first reading, but switched his vote at the next hearing. Arn and Klingensmith had voted in favor twice, both changing to opposition of the measure last night.

Proponents of fluoridation had no immediate announcement on whether they will revive the issue.

British Hikers Cross County

After crossing Columbiana County Tuesday, the hiking British sergeants spent the night in a motel near Chester, W. Va., and this morning resumed their jaunt toward New York City—a mere 400 miles or more to go.

Pictured above as they paused momentarily on Route 30 near Lisbon yesterday are (l. to r.) Sgt. Roy Rogers (who drives the team's jeep) and the walkers, Sgts. Mervyn Evans, 34, and Patrick Maloney, 33.

Appearing bronzed and healthy, they attracted attention in every community as they passed through, finally reaching East Liverpool last night. The two are trying to beat a 1929 transcontinental hiking record of 79 days, set in 1929. They left San Francisco the morning of April 12 and have been averaging 45 to 50 miles a day.

This pace should get them to New York by June 18. If so, they will have walked 3,022 miles in 68 days.

Rev. Brantingham To Be Assistant

Rev. Stanley Named As Friends Superintendent

The Rev. Chester G. Stanley has been named by the executive board of the Ohio Yearly Meeting of Friends to become general superintendent of the Yearly Meeting, to fill the place made vacant by the elevation of Dr. E. L. Cattell as president of Malone College, Canton.

At the same time, it was announced that the Rev. Sherman Brantingham, pastor of the First Friends Church at Portsmouth, Va., has been named administrative assistant to the general superintendent. He will assume his new duties Sept. 1.

Mr. Stanley, a native of the East Goshen area, was graduated from Damascus High School in 1918. He later graduated from Asbury College, Wilmore, Ky., and then took graduate work in New York University and the Biblical Seminary in New York City.

His first pastorate was the Motown Friends Church which later moved to Deerfield. Other pastorate were: Byhalia, O.; Hughesville, Pa.; Alliance, Newport News, Va.; and Columbus. During his pastorate at Byhalia in Union County he taught for four years in the High School there.

For the past 30 years Rev. Stanley has been a member of the Friends Foreign Missionary Board, seven years of that time serving as president. Twice during this period he has visited the mission fields, making the journey completely around the world by air flights.

He served some years on the administrative board of the National Association of Evangelicals; is now a member of the board of the Evangelical Foreign Missions Association. He also serves on the youth board of governors of the Yeom Union Bible Seminary of Yeonmal, M.P., India.

Council Faces New Dilemma Over Payroll

Only $707 On Hand; Varied Problems Beset Lawmakers

Future city payrolls and particularly the one scheduled for next Wednesday, remain uncertain as a result of last night's City Council meeting.

The only action taken was the acceptance of an invitation from the Joint Income Tax Committee and the Mayor's Study Committee to meet Tuesday and discuss the city's financial problems.

The immediate hurdle is meeting the General Fund payrolls. The last one, scheduled May 31, was not met until June 2 because of insufficient funds. The payroll due next Wednesday has almost no chance of materializing unless additional revenues are found to enrich the general fund.

City Treasurer James Criswell reported to Council that there is exactly $707 in the General Fund, and a $10,000 payroll is due in seven days. Chances that revenues will be received from the County before then are almost non-existent, according to City Auditor Helen Coyne.

'No Backing Down'
Regarding the meeting set-up for next Tuesday, Mayor Dean Cramer emphasized that it is not a meeting for the Joint Committee to "back down from what was said" in its earlier report nor would there be any "deletions" from that report. He was referring to the fact that the committee, in its report several months ago, rejected Council's proposed city income tax of six tenths of one per cent.

The mayor said it was a meeting "not to argue, but just to present the facts."

In view of the pending meeting, Council President Michael Schuller reminded Mayor Cramer that the Joint Committee when making its recommendations on the income tax, promised Council that it would meet with the Salem School Board regarding sharing costs of the adult school patrol program and with the Ohio Edison Co. regarding the sale of the municipal lighting system.

However, he pointed out the committee has never reported to Council regarding these meetings.

In response to these remarks, Mayor Cramer said he could see no reason for the committee or himself to hold meetings with either of the mentioned groups since neither he nor the committee had the authority to make any commitments.

President Schuller said he felt this was not the point in issue but rather it was the committee's obligation to meet with the two organizations and make a report to Council because it said once that it would.

Mr. Schuller received verification of the Committee's promise to meet with the school board and with the Edison Company from Councilman Arthur Hanna.

The meeting of Council and the two committees is scheduled for Tuesday at 7 p.m.

To Study Budget for '61
Councilman Fred Koenreich announced that his Finance Committee and the auditor would meet on Thursday night to start drawing up the budget for 1961.

Following the Tuesday night meeting, City Council will also make arrangements for issuing about $3,300 in additional bonds to meet the obligations incurred in the improvements to Highland Ave., Penn Ave. and an alley east of the American Legion Hall. Through an error the bond issue approved in May was insufficient to meet the needs.

Council also received seventh notice from the City Auditor's office that the city is still $1,300 in arrears on its share of the cost

Atlas Talks Are Deadlocked

No Date Set for Further Mediation

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—Negotiations were deadlocked today in the crippling strike against the vital Atlas missile program as Convair-makers of Atlas-cancelled all union membership clauses while vowing to continue economic benefits of its labor contract.

C. Z. Lindsay, chief negotiator for the International Assn. of Machinists, countered that the morale of workers "is still high despite company's action which in effect removes many of their rights and privileges."

A two-hour mediation session ended with no progress—and no new time set.

In a statement which a union official called "radical," Convair division of General Dynamics stated:

"All employees at Convair's three California operating divisions and all off-site bases will be told today that 'the company does not intend that any employee who is on the active payroll and working will suffer any economic loss because of the union's action.'"

"As evidence of its good faith, Convair has put into effect for all hourly employees the one-cent cost of living increase that would have been authorized on June 6 under the old contract."

"We do not feel that employees should be penalized for the actions of the IAM leadership."

Clauses cancelled by Convair include those providing for collection of union dues by the company, grievance procedures and union business inside the plants.

Lindsay said the IAM has made provisions for voluntary collection of union dues.

Convair said union security is the key issue of the strike.

"We believe all of our people should be free to determine for themselves whether or not they wish to belong to a union."

The IAM wants a 14-cent-an-hour wage boost plus fringe benefits. The company has offered 11 cents plus a 3-cent-an-hour cost-of-living increase. Pay scales now range from $1.79 to $3.40 an hour.

A union spokesman said the strike was called in strategic areas only—"where it hurts the most" instead of a costly company-wide shutdown. He said 2,785 of 27,235 IAM members at Convair facilities are on strike.

The company laid off hundreds of other workers in walk-out crippled departments. Affected are rocket plants here and bases at Cape Canaveral, Fla., Warren AFB, Wyo., Vandenberg AFB, Calif., Offutt AFB, Neb. and Edwards AFB, Calif.

New York Subway Cleanup Under Way

NEW YORK (AP) — Subway workers combed through New York City's miles of underground train tunnels today, seeking to prevent a repetition of the fire that trapped thousands in a smoke-clogged nightmare.

A third rail flash at 9:25 a.m. Tuesday set aflame a pile of refuse in a subway tunnel under Grand Central Terminal, stalling 14 rush hour trains. Hundreds of passengers were overcome by smoke.

Mayor Robert F. Wagner ordered a complete cleanup and a safety inspection of the entire subway system.

The order came after Transit Authority Chairman Charles L. Patterson said a private contractor on a repair job had left the trash several weeks ago and ignored a warning to clear it away.

Minor fires in the system are a common occurrence. More than 2,500 were reported in the past year. But the drama of Tuesday's blaze was unprecedented.

Below the surface of Manhattan, dense clouds of acrid smoke billowed into crowded subway cars. Some passengers were trapped in the heat and subterranean darkness for three hours.

Above ground, thousands rushed to the Grand Central area—police, firemen, sightseers—and a massive traffic jam clogged the streets.

The sidewalks became emergency wards as passengers staggered from smoke-spewing entrance.

About 150 were taken to hospitals. Most left after emergency treatment.

Producers Say Broadway Fall Shows Indefinitely Postponed

NEW YORK (AP) — Broadway producers say all productions for the fall season have been indefinitely postponed.

They estimate the total investment in the 43 shows at eight million dollars.

The announcement came Tuesday from the League of New York Theaters as its contract deadlock with Actors Equity continued.

There was no sight of a resumption of negotiations in the dispute, which has closed all 22 Broadway stage shows since last Thursday night.

The producers' league announced earlier that it was holding up plans for fall productions that were expected to employ 1,600 actors — twice the number now idle.

After Tuesday's announcement of indefinite postponement, Angus Duncan, executive secretary of Actors Equity, said in a statement:

"This announcement was made by the league three weeks ago. Producers have utilized every opportunity to attempt to relate natural consequences to the negotiations."

"Finian's Rainbow" and "Andersonville Trial," which the league claims were closed due to the current dispute, both had posted notices of closing prior to the blackout by the league. "Duel of Angels" previously had announced a limited run."

These are the three shows among those hit by the blackout which the producers have announced will not reopen.

Burton A. Zorn, special counsel to the league, challenged the union's contention that the producers can well afford to meet wage, pension and other demands. Zorn told a news conference: "The league has proved that the theater is not prosperous, that, to the contrary, the theater is on the brink of economic disaster."

He said there are now only 32 legitimate Broadway theaters—compared with 76 in 1931.

The producers closed all the Broadway stage shows last Thursday after the union closed the comedy "The Tenth Man" last Wednesday night. The cast was called to a union meeting at show time.

Cupid Flunks Test In Michigan Court

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Junetraditional month for marriage—is busting out all over. But Cupid has flunked a test in the Michigan Supreme Court.

The court, in a 4-4 split Tuesday, refused to upset a ruling of the school board at Mesick, Mich., that bans married high school students from extracurricular activities.

The ban is two years old. The two students against whom it was directed have since graduated. Mesick, a rural community of 359 residents in the northern part of Michigan's lower peninsula, was split when the action was approved by the Wexford County Circuit Court.

"Married students need all the extra time available to provide a proper family life," the board ruled in 1958.

Husbands Ronald Cochrane and David Shively, both 18, were barred from playing for the Mesick High School football team. They weren't allowed to play in the school band nor could they escort their wives to a dance or other school affairs during their senior year.

Cochrane and Shively married their high school sweethearts with parental consent during the 1958 summer vacation.

Baptists Squelch Proposed Thrusts At Catholic Church

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP)—The American Baptist convention ended Tuesday after squelching a series of proposed thrusts at the Roman Catholic Church in connection with the presidential election.

One by one, four such moves were decisively voted down.

The 1½-million-member denomination, however, asserted the right of citizens to inquire into the influences of any candidate's religion on his views regarding public issues.

Obvious backdrop for the spirited discussion was the candidacy of Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts, a Catholic, for the Democratic presidential nomination, but his name was not mentioned.

On a related matter, delegates commended Protestants and Other Americans United for the Separation of Church and State for "its vigilance in ferreting out infringements" of the separation principles.

It was specified, however, that the action was "not necessarily a blanket endorsement" of all POAU activity, many of which have been at odds with Roman Catholic practices.

Dover Mayor Won't Testify at Trial

NEW PHILADELPHIA, Ohio (AP)—The mayor of nearby Dover, Clifford C. Froelich, has petitioned for discharge from any obligation to testify in the trial of George Markos, a central figure in a bribery scandal.

Carroll County Common Pleas Judge Frank Cope, hearing the Tuscarawas County case on assignment, said he would not rule immediately on Froelich's motion.

Markos, a coin machine kingpin, went on trial Monday on charges involving seven counts of bribery. In a separate indictment, Mayor Froelich also is charged on seven counts of accepting bribes. All of the persons indicted in the scandal will be tried separately.

Froelich said in the petition that any testimony he might give would "constitute facts which are and would be a necessary link in the establishment by the state of material allegations. . . . The motion was virtually a plea based on the U.S. Constitution's Fifth Amendment."

Graduates: It's Your Turn Now

One theme that gets into circulation at commencement time each year should be exterminated along with the other pests the next time exterminators are called into save educational institutions from the ravages of time.

It runs to the effect that graduates won't have things as good as they deserve because things aren't as good as they should be or as good as they used to be.

The theme is preposterous.

Graduates will end up, by and large, with what they deserve, just as their fathers, grandfathers, mothers and grandmothers did. It was pretty good, too—a chance to enjoy life in the best of all possible worlds in the best of all possible countries.

As for things not being as good as they should be, that is why the responsible generation has spent so much money educating the generation getting ready to take over responsibility. Even though it's contrary to a common American credo, improvement through education is held to be worth the cost and the effort. No one ever has argued that Americans would be better off without schools. The claim that outstanding Americans who had no schooling managed to stay solvent, therefore it is possible for all individuals to get along without formal instruction, is illogical.

As for things not being as good as they used to be for graduates, this is one of those rosy reminiscences like the taste of mother's cooking. People who say this can be forgiven; they have the sweet taste of their own youth in their mouths when roses are blooming and every vista pleases. They are temporarily not responsible for what they are saying. They forget that to the young in spirit all things always seem possible.

This is a well-intended warning to graduates: Don't take seriously any dark murmurings about the world as it seems to those who have grown shopworn from being in it. They had their chance to make it better and, all things considered, they did make it better, despite their misgivings. It's your turn now.

Every Man Runs His Own Race

It is no reflection on any of the other Democrats who might be nominated for president by their party in July to acknowledge that Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson now is making his move with that special brand of verve that comes from experience.

Watching him step out of the relative obscurity of his position as majority leader of the Senate into direct contention for the Democratic nomination is like watching a professional ballplayer rattle a pitcher with a long lead off 1st base. The Texan has the sure touch.

Perhaps the most skillful thing Sen. Johnson has done to bring favorable attention to himself as a presidential possibility is to let Adlai Stevenson, Sen. John Kennedy of Massachusetts and Sen. Stuart Symington of Missouri bracket themselves together in hasty and, in Stevenson's case, sharp criticism of President Eisenhower over the Paris Summit fiasco. Sen. Johnson kept his mouth shut until it was time to say he had no wish to help Premier Khrushchev undermine the executive leadership of the United States.

"He is the only man who can deal with Mr. Khrushchev as our spokesman," explained Sen. Johnson as he wound up a six-state tour of western states early this week. That wrapped up his position on the U2 incident, which he believes should be examined, as Sen. Fulbright is trying to examine it as chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations committee—as an experience in national affairs that Congress needs to inquire into on a non-partisan basis.

Sen. Johnson is the principal Democratic image of the "old pro" in politics—the man who has mastered the "art of the possible." Each of the contenders for the nomination must run his own race for the nomination in his own way. Now that Sen. Johnson is making his move, though he has not declared so far that this is what he is doing, he is assured of the same thoughtful attention that has been given to the contenders who made their moves first.

He is leaving no room for doubt of his ability to make his mark in this respect. The Scripps-Howard newspapers, 19 in number, have declared their belief that he is the ablest and strongest of the Democratic candidates and their choice, therefore, for the Democratic nomination for president.

No Reason to Doubt Malinovsky

The grim-faced militarist who went to Paris to help Khrushchev blow up the Summit Conference has warned that rocket retaliation awaits nations in which unfriendly United States airplane flights originate.

There is no reason to doubt Rodion Malinovsky, defense minister of the Soviet Union. President Eisenhower declared that he called off reconnaissance flights over Russian territory immediately after the Powers mishap, because of the danger to countries with U.S. air bases.

Here, laid down in its awful proportions, is the ultimate horror of pushbutton warfare.

Batteries of Russian missiles aimed at distant targets in foreign countries and ready to fire at an instant's notice. . . A foreign plane reported over Russian territory. . . Word is flashed to defense headquarters.

A too-hasty decision causes a missile to be launched. It lands in Afghanistan, doing terrible damage with its nuclear warhead. Consistent with Malinovsky's credo that "war cannot be warded off with cowardice," the United States promptly dispatches its Strategic Air Command bombers on their mission of massive retaliation. In a matter of hours, World War II has been so well begun and so systematically rushed to fulfillment that there is no backing out of it.

Only the historians, if there are any survivors to care what happened, would know that the foreign plane reported over Russian territory was identified later as an experimental type being developed by the Russian air force.

For many years, the most hateful fact of life to Russian militarists has been the ring of U.S. bases that pen them in. They choose to describe the bases as proof of aggressive intent, though they know it is impossible for aggression to originate here.

Their overriding purpose is to get rid of the U.S. bases. Nothing that every came to hand before gave them so much leverage as the U2 incident, which they call an act of aggression. With it to pry with, they may break the security chain that has hemmed them in.

If the price of cooperation with the non-communist world is the possibility of instant nuclear attack by the rocket-rattling Communist militarists, the price will seem too high to wavering nations.

This has been increasingly the problem of non-Communist security measures—that wavering nations feared being caught in a military collision between the United States and the Soviet Union.

Defense Minister Malinovsky has spelled out how accidental and incidental a collision might be. A single airplane flying off course—or even an airplane that never existed—might twitch the Red Army's trigger finger.

The price of air bases and all other security now will go up, in some instances beyond reach.

You have a big heart, and it naturally goes out to the Cuban people. But it can't go out to Fidel who is an unfair fighter specializing in low punches of which you have been a lifelong foe. It is well to know you realize that a long vacationists could relax with a fellow who abuses Democratic processes, enjoy a sunbath while their ears were split by denunciations of America or like tropical scenery amid cries of "Yank, go home!"

I see you were advised by the Missus but my hunch is that always a fair fighter who scorned rabbit punches and head-butts, you got out of Didel's corner on your own capacity for straight thinking.

METER MAIDS are now at work in Gotham and they make illegal parking a pleasure.

Why shouldn't actors get pensions even as war veterans do? Their whole lives are a battle with critics. Ballplayers get pensions too, and certainly actors and actresses are not only in more perilous work but must bat without helmets. If a ballplayer strikes out it's just routine but if an actor strikes out it can mean his job. And bear in mind that if a baseball club gets bad reviews the management can't post a closing notice.

Back-to-Work Movement

'The Top Ten Schools'

By GABE KAIMOWITZ

A high school student beams proudly as he says, "I just got into one of the top 10 universities in the country."

Another is crestfallen. Although he had been accepted by a small university in the Midwest, he was turned down by colleges in the mythical leagues.

As students wait to hear whether they were accepted by a "good" school, the myth of comparative ratings of universities again prevails.

If the truth be known, there are no official ratings and very few unofficial ones, say many college advisory organizations, educators, and the New York public library reader adviser service.

Some periodicals and newspapers, from time to time, attempt to rate schools through student or faculty polls. One of the latest to do so is "Changing Times" which covered a survey of graduate department heads.

THE MAGAZINE admits that there are no "official" ratings and that it is virtually impossible to rate schools, but says of its own survey, "Although the voices reflect subjective impressions and may not reveal the actual merit of the individual department, this does report the judgment of men whose opinions are most likely to have weight . . . the sum of their opinions is a fairly close approximation of what informed people think."

But subsequently the article hits at the core of one problem: "Often a school's reputation is slow to catch up with a change in quality."

Philip Coombs, program director of education for the Ford Foundation also doubts the validity of any and all rating systems.

He says, "The real misfortune (in comparing schools, particularly by prospective applicants) is that the typical student and high school guidance counselor do not know of good schools without big reputations."

"The spread between many accredited schools probably is nowhere near as great as one would think from popular impressions."

AS FOR THE "top 10 schools in the country," Robert E. Lincoln, executive director, College Admissions Assistance Center in New York City, says he would advise any student or parent to write to them if they believe such exist.

Lincoln himself, shrinks at the thought of naming a school in the "top 10." He says the best any educational institution can do "is advertise the fields it offers, boosting those in which it does a superior job."

However, today, there is no readily accessible, valid way for the student to determine if a university is really the best, or one of the best, in the field in which he is interested.

Some college guides, such as Lovejoy's, do rate groups of schools and their departments on such broad standards as accreditation. (Most four-year colleges known to the public are accredited and consequently would receive a No. 1 rating in this system.)

Despite educators' continual pounding at the validity of any comparative evaluation, even they often list criteria on which such ratings might be based.

SOME consider the schools' accumulated wealth, number of doctorate degrees offered, published works by faculty members, the size of the school, and student-teacher ratios as some possible ways to determine a school's worth. But here again, it's a matter of opinion.

Despite the debunking of comparative ratings, some educators do admit that there are firms and fields, including their own, which hire on the basis of the school's reputation (rather than the individual's), and which recognize only the alleged "top" universities.

Because of this, students probably will still seek the "top" schools and eventually will be "rated" third or fourth on an imaginary list of 10 or 20. The educators, much to their regret, agree that this is one legend that is here to stay.

Soviet Victory

By DAVID LAWRENCE

U.S. Reconnaissance Planes Still Grounded

If U2 flights are not soon resumed, Nikita Khrushchev will have won his biggest victory over the West. For without giving in to a single concession, the Soviets have achieved the grounding of American reconnaissance planes.

This means that a surprise attack now can be mounted without previous detection of those measures of mobilization that would precede such an attack and which can be photographed from the air. The U2 planes by their constant surveillance can furnish information that an attack is coming.

Why, it is being asked here, should the Soviets be insured against detection? If they were ready to agree to a program that would bind both sides to refrain from reconnaissance, there would be logic in their position but no such proposal has been made by Moscow.

Indeed, Mr. Khrushchev is mainly concerned now about an extension of his self-imposed ban. He says the present suspension lasts only until a new President of the United States comes into office on Jan. 20 next and he wants pledges beyond that date.

In other words, he wants to make permanent the military disadvantage from which the United States suffers.

There is a different between espionage and surveillance. In the latter case the military forces of a nation feel they have a right at a critical time to observe the enemy forces.

Under international law there is today technically a condition of peace between Russia and the United States but actually there is a cold war and threats of attack have been made repeatedly by the Soviet Premier. So there is every right to make reconnaissance flights as a defense measure.

JUST HOW HIGH above the earth is a flight a mere act of justified observation, as, for instance, with a satellite that carries cameras, and when it is a "spy" flight?

Sen. John Stennis (D-Miss) who is a member of the Senate Committee on Aeronautical and Space Sciences, has just made a speech calling attention to an article written by G. Zadorozhnyi, a Russian expert, in October 1957 for the newspaper Soviet Russia in which he says:

"The artificial satellite, on the flight around the earth, passes over the territory of practically all countries. According to the provisions of contemporary international law, the sovereignty of each state extends to all the air space above that state. In practice, however, up to now the question of sovereignty over airspace has been concerned only with the lower layers of the atmosphere at distances 12 to 18 miles from the earth within the limits of maximum ascent ceiling of present-day airplanes."

But the international agreements do not forbid use of the air by unarmed planes at any height.

The United States, therefore, can justify its U2 flights because its planes carried no weapons of war and have been in every sense unarmed.

Are the Russians going to argue that no such planes can fly over another nation's territory because mere transport of photographic apparatus is a violation of a nation's sovereignty?

If they do, then they, in effect, will be abandoning their own doctrine and saying that their own satellites hereafter cannot traverse any other nation's air space.

THE SOVIET WRITER, quoted above, also cited many Western experts in support of his contention that the air is free. He declared: "The contents of all these articles decidedly refute the assertions of some Western circles that the Soviet earth satellite allegedly violates international law and even all but threatens the security of the United States."

The opinion of all these Western specialists comes to this: That there is nothing in either customary international law or international conventions which would be violated by the program of the international geophysical year.

But how high up is a flight scientific, and how low must it be to be considered military and engaged in spying?

The camera knows no altitude limits. The satellites now in orbit have been taking pictures of military installations.

If, therefore, reconnaissance flights are to be stopped altogether, it must be by international agreement.

Why should the United States suspend U2 flights and give Russia a military advantage?

This question is worrying military men generally but it might well begin to worry everybody else because, for nearly four years, the U2 has protected American against surprise attack.

What will protect American now?

That's the question involved in the growing demand for a resumption of U2 flights or at least an agreement that will bind the Russians to open inspection so that no preparation will be made for surprise attack.

So Much To Say

By TRUMAN TWILL

Here was this lady on the telephone this morning with an idea that something should be written to bring back Decoration Day to the status it used to have when Civil War survivors were in the parades.

"I wish so many times I could write," she said. "There's so much I want to say."

And here was this letter in the morning mail, from an old friend who has been writing professionally for many years, though not in sufficient volume to support himself and his family. He is one of several professional writers I know who must earn their living in two or more jobs.

"It is funny," my old friend wrote. "When I was younger and was not able to write very well at all I thought I had a great deal to tell the world, but now that I have somewhat mastered the art of writing so that I can write at least a declarative sentence I find that—alas—I have nothing of much value to impart!"

Another professional writer I know is continually upbraiding herself because she is afraid what she writes will not be plausible. She keeps giving up on herself and putting manuscripts back into the trunk, for fear someone will see them and accuse her of not knowing what she is writing about.

It's like still another professional once said about the writing business: "It's an act of faith, not an exercise in grammar."

And what is a professional writer?

A professional writer is someone with something to say and the ability to say it. Whether or not the result is saleable is unimportant. Most of the great things that have been written have not been saleable and were not written with the idea they could be sold.

Moreover, of the stuff written with a sale in mind, the highest prices were paid to people with nothing to say—people like Calvin Coolidge, whose name was saleable when he left the White House. Currently a long list of lusher, narcotic addicts and show business personalities with nothing to say and no ability to say it are making a money killing by hiring ghost writers to juice up their biographical fodder and peddle it on the fame of their names.

It's a weird, zany thing—writing. Theoretically, everybody can do it as soon as he has learned how to form letters. It isn't even necessary to spell or punctuate. Publishers can hire for a few bucks a week bright boys and girls who know all about spelling and punctuation but have nothing to say.

A writer doesn't even need a pencil. He can sit with his feet up and rattle off what he has to say into a recording machine. Many writers these days don't write. They talk.

They have the gift of gab, as they say about salesmen, politicians, pitchmen and trial lawyers. Words fall out of them, the way water falls out of a faucet when it's turned, propelled by unseen pressure.

"Highly articulate" is the phrase sometimes used for people like this, but it doesn't tell all the story, either, because some who can spill out spoken words can't write a lick, in the sense they have nothing to say and the barrenness of their thoughts shows up when reduced to writing. And some who can write like recording angels are tongue-tied when they speak.

It's a puzzle. Its being a puzzle must be the reason so many people are captivated by spoken and written words. It relieves the tension of their frustration. They feel they are packed full of things they, too, would like to say, though in fact if they started to say them many would learn to their chagrin they have nothing of much value to impart.

Inside Labor By Victor Riesel

"Mr. Sam" has talked like a Dutch Uncle to Walter Reuther. Speaker Rayburn, manager of Lyndon Johnson's campaign for the presidency, wanted to know just where Reuther and the other labor leaders stood. It was blunt talk — tough. It happened one recent afternoon. Reuther had dropped into the speaker's congressional office to lobby support for some labor-backed bills.

"Sit down," said Rayburn. "I'm glad you're here. I want to talk to you. I'm sick of the labor leaders ganging up on (Senate leader) Johnson. In all the years he's been here, he hasn't hit out at any labor people."

"He didn't vote against them as minority leader — nor as majority leader, especially as majority leader. Why do you fellows go around hitting him?"

Reuther replied quickly.

"Look, Mr. Speaker," retorted the Auto Union Chief, "don't include me in that sentiment. I'm not against Lyndon Johnson. I want a winner."

"I don't want eight more years of Republican rule. I'll take anybody the party names. I'm not fighting Johnson."

REUTHER LEFT after an amiable talk. But that did not make him a Johnson man. Nor is he neutral. Reuther is no more capable of neutrality on a major issue than Alcoholics Anonymous is of sponsoring a whiskey blend.

Reuther is, in fact, very much for John Kennedy. Privately but ardently. But the union chief, like virtually all but a few national labor-political policy makers, is as practical as a bargain basement full of do-it-yourself kits.

They plan to mobilize all their political machinery, now being quietly put into shape by the AFL-CIO Committee on Political Education.

This machine is replete with TV films, IBM type voter selector equipment and tens of thousands of precinct workers.

They want no part of a public pre-convention campaign which would put them on record against any candidate.

To make that point, the real powerhouses will be as far away from the pre-convention maneuvering as possible.

AFL-CIO President Meany leaves soon for a month's stay in Europe. Walter Reuther is going continental, too — and then to Africa.

This is what he told friends in the East the other day.

In the most private of conversations he indicated that he had even given up trying to get the vice-presidential spot for Gov. Memmen "Soapy" Williams of Michigan.

Reuther also knows the opposition wants him to step right out front. There's time, he reckons.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Preliminary figures for 27 of the nation's larger population centers indicate that suburbs have been growing six times as fast as cities in the past 10 years.

While the record of the 27 areas may not prove absolutely typical, it pointed up a well-established migration to suburbia that will be measured exactly after final 1960 census figures are available.

An Associated Press canvass today covered population centers which were among the first for which both city and metropolitan area statistics were available. Scattered through all sections of the country, they showed this 10-year record:

The 27 cities had a population gain of 6.6 per cent — up 1,243,294 to 20,026,946. During the same decade, the suburbs around these cities had an increase of 41.4 per cent — up 4,767,479 to 16,328,177.

Of the 27 cities, 11 lost population between 1950 and 1960 as residents moved from old, crowded sections into the outlying areas. All the metropolitan areas showed sizable population gains.

Shrinking cities of the list were Baltimore, Detroit, Jacksonville, Fla., Jersey City and Newark, N.J., New York City, Philadelphia, Providence, R.I., Richmond, Va., Rochester, N.Y., and Worcester, Mass.

FILES $10,000 SUIT — A suit asking $10,000 personal injuries was filed Tuesday in Common Pleas court as the aftermath of a traffic accident.

Edward Daniels of Ironton RD 1 asks this amount from Warren J. Dickey, Meadowland, Pa.

Daniels claims he was a passenger in a car driven by Julia B. Adams on June 8, 1958 on Rt. 14 in Columbiana County when it was struck by a car driven by Dickey.

EX-SPY — Former Russian intelligence agent Alexander Kaznacheyev, above, who defected to the west in 1959, says that virtually all employees of Soviet embassies, plus other representatives of the Russian government abroad, are trained spies. He did his spying in Rangoon, Burma, he said.

BANG-UP JOB — A small explosion is used to shape tough metals at the Ryan Aeronautical plant in San Diego, Calif. The metal (aluminum alloys, titanium alloys, stainless steel and other steels) is placed in the die with the explosive. The explosion forces water against the metal, forming it. Engineer Lloyd Painter shows various parts made in this manner while an explosion geysers water in the concrete pit next to him.

Obnoxious Remarks

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Remarks an installment collector gets tired of hearing:

"Here's $10 on account—account of that all I got."

"Honest, I was going to pay you, but I took a vacation instead—just to get away from my money worries."

"Don't take the television set. If you have to take anything back, take the sofa. Then we can still lie on the rug and watch the programs."

"Well, let's be sporting about it. I'll pay you $5 now, and $5 the next time you catch me."

"Shut the door quick, Martha, here comes Shylock again."

"You mean I dated that last check June 1, 1970? How could I have been so careless? Well, you'll have to wait until next month now. I don't have any more dough left in the bank."

"Go on and sue me if you want to. But you'll have to stand in line. There's a lot of people ahead of you."

"How can you garnishee my wages when I'm self-employed? I am, that is, when I work."

"Don't sic the dog on him now. Wait until he gets into the yard and closes the gate."

"It don't do you no good to catch me at home. It's my wife you gotta catch. She's the one who mishandles the money in this family."

"Look, suppose I slip you $7.50 personally, and you go back and tell your boss we moved to Australia and didn't leave a forwarding address. Okay?"

"For the last time I tell you—I will not be responsible for my husband's debts. Sure, I know he to your company explaining everything. Can you lend me a stamp?"

"Yes, they used to live here, but they moved last week. Very mysterious, too. A big truck came about midnight. Nobody knows where they went."

Los Angeles, the article said. It quoted Moulder as saying the bills included meals for people involved in the committee's hearings—"friendly people—you might call them fans of the committee."

Asked if liquor charges were included in the restaurant bills, Moulder replied, "Unquestionably they are. I normally have a drink before lunch," the story said.

The $90.38 nightclub bill, the story added, had a handwritten note in the margin saying "Persian Room," which is the Plaza Hotel's plush night club.

Walter was quoted as saying the hired limousines "proved to be more convenient than taxis. Another committee member, Rep. Gordon Scherer (R-Ohio), said the limousines "perhaps were much cheaper than cabs."

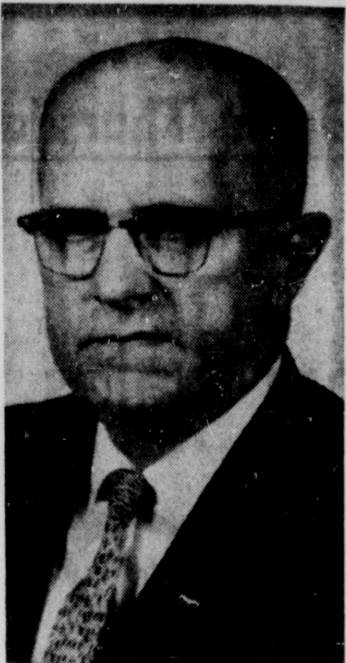

The story listed some of Scherer's hotel bills as well as those of Rep. Edwin Willis (D-La.), another committee member.

The story said a total of $161.35 was paid to the Library of Congress to replace books and magazines that had been lost by committee members or its staff.

Asked why such books were needed for the committee's work, Walter said "I don't even know who has authority to draw books. I haven't the faintest idea why these particular books were drawn."

FIRES EXTINGUISHED — Brush and grass fires had city firemen out twice Tuesday.

They were called to 841 Summit St. at 2 p.m. to douse a grass fire, and at 8:29 p.m. they were called to 312 S. Lincoln Ave. to check a brush fire.

REV. BRANTINGHAM is the son of Martin and Lydia Brantingham of Winona who themselves were pastors of churches in Ohio.

A graduate of Salem High School he received his bachelor's degree in Theology from Pasadena, Calif. College. He served a student assistant-pastorate in Glendale, Calif., before becoming pastor of the Winona Friends Church in 1945.

He began the pastorate at Portsmouth, Va. in 1952. During these years the church has launched a building program and is soon to break ground for a $150,000 church and Sunday School unit.

Active in camp meeting and youth work, he has served on the Board of Christian Education for several years, and as announcing clerk at the Yearly Meeting sessions at Damascus.

Mrs. Brantingham, the former Dorothy Wright, is a graduate of Salem High School, Cleveland Bible Institute (now Malone College) and Pasadena College. The Brantinghams have four sons, Philip 14, Stephen 13, Paul 10, and Mark 7. They plan to move to the Damascus area in August.

Fair Book Lists In Printers' Hands

Fair book premium lists for the 115th Columbiana County fair, Aug. 23-27, are in the printers hands and the Fair Board hopes the books will be printed and ready for distribution by July 15, Galen Greenisen, publicity chairman, reported at the fair board's meeting Tuesday night.

The board voted to permit Class D baseball teams in Lisbon to use the fair grounds, and it rented the grounds to the Lisbon Lions Club for its circus July 4.

Secretary Clarence Crosser of Lisbon and Mr. Greenisen are expected to attend the summer conference of Ohio Fair Board managers in Columbus June 22.

Unit Okays Canton Flood Control Project

WASHINGTON (AP)—Flood control projects at Canton and in Cuyahoga County are among 17 included in a resolution approved by the House Flood Control Subcommittee which would authorize Army Engineers to make surveys of the projects. Approval by the House Public Works Committee, which next will consider the project, is sufficient to authorize such surveys.

The Ohio surveys, together with their estimated cost, are Nimishillen Creek and tributaries at Canton, $4,000; and Cuyahoga River, Cuyahoga County, $100.0.

Judge Drops Bomb Charge Against Pennsylvania Man

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Nearly two months after FBI agents arrested him at Port Columbus Airport, Julius Rudolph Radwanski, 38, of Huntingdon Valley, Pa., is free of a charge of making a false bomb report.

It all began when the federal government alleged he answered a

Trans World Airlines employee's query about the weight of his bag by saying: "There's a bomb in it."

That was April 13. He appeared in U.S. District Court a week later and pleaded innocent.

Tuesday, on the motion of Asst. U.S. Atty. Thomas S. Schatteneff, Federal Judge Mell G. Underwood dismissed the charge. Schatteneff said no deliberate hoax was intended, apparently, and therefore prosecution would serve no deterrent purpose.

The judge also dismissed the case against Yost J. Miller, a 26-year-old Amishman from Fredricksburg (Wayne County), at Schatteneff's request. Schatteneff said Miller will work at University Hospital in Cleveland in lieu of military service, so the government need not prosecute.

A Pine City, Minn., farmer who postal authorities said purchased $1,150 worth of pornographic pictures and other materials for resale, was sentenced to two years in prison. The Minnesota, Cleveland V. Poechmann, 38, pleaded guilty May 24 to interstate transportation of obscene matter after being arrested in Columbus early in May.

In other cases: Fairmont Foods Co., which operates in the eastern and central United States, was fined $1,000 on each of eight counts for violations of federal food and drug laws.

Council for the company said the violations primarily concerned shipment of sub-federal standard cream from some independent cream stations in Ohio to a Pittsburgh creamery of the company. That phase of the operation is being discontinued, he added.

Stuart C. Sherwood, an official of the company, also was fined $1,000, after guilty pleas were entered for himself and the company.

A 15-month sentence was imposed on Robert W. Secrest, 36, Democratic nominee for Muskingum County treasurer, but Judge Underwood said Secrest is to serve three months in jail and then be placed on three years probation.

Secrest pleaded guilty May 24 to stealing, forging and cashing a $173 government check belonging to a friend.

Jet Runs Wild On Takeoff; Kills Four

PATUENT, Md. (AP)—A Navy jet plane that ran wild on its catapult takeoff at the naval air station here killed four servicemen Tuesday.

Two others including the jet pilot Capt. Francis M. Parsons of Euclid, Ohio, were injured.

Another near-tragedy struck close by a short time earlier, when a B57A Canberra jet bomber crashed and cut wide swath in woods only 500 yards from the Great Mills High School four miles from here.

Two men had bailed out of that stricken craft and aimed it on automatic pilot to plunge into Chesapeake Bay. However, it circled back in an 180-degree turn but fortunately hit no civilians.

Navy spokesmen were a loss to explain why the F8U Crusader jet arched over after it was hurled at more than 100 miles an hour from the catapult. One wing dipped, the plane swerved and crashed into a waiting helicopter where two men were preparing to take off to the earlier crash scene.

The jet and helicopter screeched into tangled wreckage as they piled into an adjacent parking lot. An ambulance, fire truck and several other vehicles were heaped up too and the wreckage burst into a smoky inferno, but not before the jet pilot was rescued.

The Navy identified those killed as the helicopter pilot, 1st Lt. Frank A. Williams, 30, of Hampton, Va., whose home town was Richmond, Ind.; his crew chief, S. Sgt. Clyde A. Chatham, 24, of Popquon, Va., whose home town was Jackson, Miss.; Lawrence H. Priester, Navy hospital man of Downer's Grove, Ill., and Aviation Boatswain Pierre G. Arnold of East Greenwich, R. I.

Capt. Parsons was snatched from the debris and taken to the base hospital in critical condition.

of improving Rts. 45, 62 and 9 in the city. The city's original share was more than $10,000. However, $9,000 of this share has been paid.

City Dump Complaint Heard

Also received from the County was a letter from Dr. C. S. Palmer, county health commissioner, that some action should be taken to correct the city's trash and garbage dump. He noted the city has had nine years since first notification of the obnoxious and hazardous condition.

Councilman Albert Leach in his report to Council as head of the Sewers Committee, blamed the current state of the dump on the residents of Salem.

He said that one day last week he was at the dump and watched as workmen cleaned the place up as neat as he had seen in recent months only to return several days later and find that indiscriminate dumping had returned the dumps condition to what it was prior to the cleaning.

Ask W. 9th St. Paving

A delegation of eight residents of W. 9th St. approached Council again on the subject of street paving and widening. Each of the eight felt something should be done about the paving, even if on a temporary basis.

A meeting of the Mayor and two members of the delegation was scheduled for tomorrow to discuss the problem. Mayor Cramer explained that the street does not have a proper base, necessary before the city will accept maintenance of it and pointed out that the installation of the proper base is the responsibility of the property owners.

Two residents from Jefferson Ave. were also present to see about street repairs.

'No Parking' Signs Arrive

The mayor reported that the no parking signs for N. Ellsworth and N. Lincoln Ave. have arrived and will be installed as soon as possible. He also noted that the Pennsylvania Railroad is improving its crossings in the city.

Councilmen Carl Abe and Donald Cannon requested that steps be taken to remove shrubbery offering vision impairments to motorists.

Councilman Abe mentioned shrubs on the corner of Woodland Ave. and Pershing St. and on the corner of N. Union Ave. and E. 9th St. Councilman Cannon asked that something be done about the low-hanging branches on trees which are hiding the traffic light at N. Lincoln Ave. and E. 6th St.

The mayor's financial report to Council showed that he took in $1,492.05 during May of which $1,219 was retained by the city. The state received $257.85 of the remainder, and the County, $15.

Aubrey Hayes, superintendent of utilities, reported that water receipts for the month amounted to $14,527.76 and for sewers to $7,287.14. The running total for the first five months shows water at $73,549.41 and sewers at $36,833.37.

Pumpage of water for the month amounted to 47 million plus bringing the five-month total to 225,181,000 gallons.

C. S. Tomlinson, superintendent of recreation, reported that his department has taken in $2,636 thus far, mostly as fees for season tickets at the swimming pool. He noted that the road at Memorial Park was under construction and that resurfacing of the tennis courts is the next major capital improvement to be undertaken by the Park Commission. He said that the playground program would commence on June 27.

Parking Lot Funds In Hand

F. S. Barckhoff, acting city engineer, reported income of $120 during May from 26 building permits and $2 from map sales. Mayor Cramer indicated that Mr. Barckhoff is still working on the property abstract on the site of the municipal parking lot on Pershing St. He said he hopes to let contracts on the project shortly. The construction money is in hand, he said.

Further steps regarding the Mayor's "weight ordinance" are to be investigated at a meeting of the mayor and Council.

Councilman Carl Abe reported that the mayor, solicitor and councilmen have agreed that the present ordinances and laws are sufficient to protect the streets and keep trucks on the designated routes but that the mayor feels the fines for violations of the laws should remain in the city. Under the present system, most of the fines are taken by the county and state.

A transfer of $600 from the Service Department's Maintenance and supply fund to the new equipment fund was approved so that the department could purchase a used truck. A second transfer of $200 was approved from the Traffic Maintenance Payroll to the adult school patrol.

James Murphy of the Quaker City bus lines requested that Council write a letter approving his firm's loading and discharging passengers within the city. Council promised to study the request.

Councilman Cannon reported that eight new lights have been installed on Aetna St., two on N. Lincoln and one on Jefferson.

Shirley McKinney, 18, Named Dairy Princess

A Dairy Princess contest for Mahoning County was held in Canfield Tuesday, sponsored by the American Dairy Association.

Shirley McKinney, 18, daughter of Mrs. Selma McKinney of Petersburg, was chosen Dairy Princess. Miss McKinney, who is a 1960 graduate of Springfield Local High School, will participate in the state contest in Columbus, June 24 and 25.

Attendants are Ruthanne Bacon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Darrel Bacon of New Springfield, and Kay Rapp, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rapp, North Lima.

This is the first time the Ohio Branch of the AIA has participated in the dairy event.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I can put my problem in a single sentence. We have four school-age children and one bathroom.

The girls are 16 and 15. They usually get in first and dawdle around putting on makeup which makes the boys mad.

The boys are 13 and 11. They usually have to do a hurry-up job, then I send them back almost daily to wash their necks. This makes them later than ever and there's always a fuss. Every morning the routine is the same — yelling, fighting and pounding on the bathroom door. I usually referee between the orange juice and the oatmeal.

My husband leaves at 6:30 a.m. so he misses all the commotion. When I try to tell him what it's like he says, "We had seven kids in our family and the bathroom was outside. We all lived through it."

What can I do about this? — SCREAMING MIMI.

Dear Screaming: No force in all this world promotes cooperation and unselfishness in a family like one bathroom.

Call a summit meeting. Decide when the girls are to enter and leave the marble palace. Buy them a large wall mirror so they can make up their faces in their own room. This will help relieve the bottleneck.

Tell the boys they are going to be fined a nickel every time they are sent back to wash a neck. Reward them with a dime at the end of the week if they get past the neck inspector without a demerit.

A home with four children and one bathroom is usually a lot happier than a home with four bathrooms and no children. Cheer up!

In Jam for Speeding

Dear Ann: I'm going steady with this fellow. He is not working but I am. On the way home the other night he was arrested for speeding. He doesn't have the money to pay the fine. This means five days in jail.

I told him that I would pay the fine for him and he said, "Nothing doing."

I plan to marry him some day and I don't want the father of my children to have a jail record. He said this is not the same as having a jail record.

Is it? Do you think he should accept my help or sit it out? — HIS GIRL.

Dear His: When a man goes to jail, it becomes a matter of record. This is called a jail record.

In my opinion he should accept your help and pay you back as soon as possible.

Squatter In Garage

Dear Ann: I live in a 5-family apartment house. I pay $60 a month for my apartment plus $5 a month for the garage. I don't have a car so I don't need a garage.

Another tenant in this apartment uses my garage but he does not pay me anything. I THINK he is paying the landlady.

I say the tenant should pay me the $5 garage money because it is really MY garage space he is using. The landlady says the garage does not belong to me. It belongs to her. Please tell me if she is right or if I am.

Hurry and answer before the first of the month. I think I'm getting the works.—GYPPED.

Dear Gypped: Do you have a lease? What does it say? If it says you pay $65 a month for the apartment and the garage, then you must pay it whether or not you use the garage. However, if this is the case, your landlady has no right to rent or give away space you are paying for.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Salem News, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

The Doctor Says

By HAROLD THOMAS HYMAN, M.D.

Pain Sometimes Hide Ailment Origin

As you can easily imagine, there are plenty of opportunities for "wrong numbers," crossed lines and some short circuits in the marvelous and complex pain mechanism of the human body.

For example, if ever you've had what's called a facial neuralgia, you'll remember how difficult it was to decide if the pain was in your tooth, ear, eye or sinuses.

If ever you've socked your "funny bone," you'll remember how the pain registered in your hand and fingers instead of at the point of impact.

And if ever you suffered the agonies of an attack of sciatica, you'll remember how your doctor began examining your back almost to the exclusion of the painful area.

WHEN IT COMES TO pain sensations caused by disturbances originating in the internal organs of the body, things get even more confusing than they do in the examples I've just given of snafus in areas served by spinal nerves.

The reason for this is the need for the internal organ to register its painful sensation in a skin area to which it was once related in the course of its development and from which it became separated.

Let me try to make this clearer by giving examples: The so-called referred pain of heart trouble may register in the left shoulder and down the inner surface of the left arm; of stomach trouble, behind the breast bone (heartburn); of gallstone colic, in the right shoulder.

Now in the case of these misleading registrations of referred pains, you may be able to help your doctor to a correct interpretation of these wrong numbers or crossed lines by furnishing an eyewitness account of the pain-producing incident.

If that pain in your left shoulder came on after extreme exertion and disappeared when you got rested, he'd be pretty sure it was due to heart strain.

If the "heartburn" appeared regularly after meals and disappeared when you ate, he'd want to have X-rays taken to see if you had an ulcer.

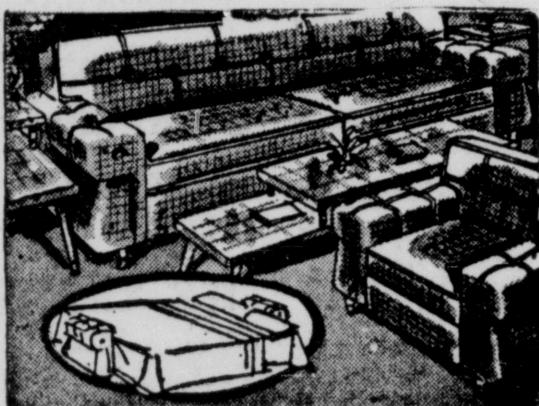

And if you reported that your wife noticed some yellowing of the whites of your eyes just after that attack of pain in your right shoulder, attention would be directed to your gall sac.

UNFORTUNATELY, it isn't always that easy. Sometimes, just as you've noticed in the whodunits on TV, the obvious clue is a red herring that some joker has drawn across the trail.

That pain in your left shoulder

Dayton Roosevelt On Quakers' 1960-61 Cage Schedule

Toledo Scott Also on List

Columbiana, Sebring, Akron East Dropped

By DICK BRAUTIGAM Dayton Roosevelt, Ohio's defending Class AA basketball champions, headlines Salem High School's 1960-61 cage schedule released today by Athletic Director Fred Cope.

An 18-game schedule, probably the toughest ever lined up for a Salem High squad, also includes the appearance here of Toledo Scott, another of the four state Class AA finalists last season. Fourteen of the 18 games will be played at the Salem High Gym.

The Quakers will face five teams which were not on last year's schedule. Besides Dayton Roosevelt and Toledo Scott, they are Akron Central, Cleveland West and Akron South.

Dropped from Salem's 1959-60 schedule were Columbiana, Cleveland Cathedral Latin, Akron St. Vincent, Akron East and Sebring.

THE QUAKERS will open their season on Dec. 9 at home against Columbus East, a perennial cage power from the capital city which Salem edged 64-59 last season in one of the most exciting frays of the year here.

After a tilt with Girard on Dec. 13, Salem will make its first road appearance on Dec. 17 at the University of Akron Gym against Akron Central.

The only other away games will be played against East Palestine, Warren and East Liverpool. Dayton Roosevelt will make its appearance here on Feb. 17 in the final regular season game on the Quakers' schedule. Toledo Scott will play here on Jan. 7.

Stored Power By JIMMY DEMARET

The start of the hitting action in a pitch shot begins to re-establish the straight line of the club, hands and arms at the point of address. The accompanying illustration shows the practically perfect line formed by the arms and club. The hands, somewhat "under" the wrists at the point of address, are returning to this strong striking position at the precise second of impact, unleashing stored power.

Practically perfect line ground by way of giving in to the whole of the turn.

U.S. Has Dream Team In '60 Olympic Basketball Outfit

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — If ever there was a dream team in sports, Pete Newell has one in his 1960 Olympic basketball squad. He has height, speed, shooters to spare, youth and experience. Despite predictions from nearly everyone that the U.S. has a gold medal in the bag, Newell feels he has plenty of work ahead of him.

"We have a pretty strong team," the 44-year-old California athletic director said. "But we're not looking at it as a cinch. That's a good way to get knocked over." Newell earned his Olympic job by coaching an NCAA All star club to victory in the Olympic Trials. He has four All Americas to start with — Darrall Imhoff, 6-foot-10 California; Oscar Robertson, 6-foot-5, Cincinnati; Jerry Lucas, 6-foot-8, Ohio State, and Jerry West, 6-foot-3, West Virginia.

Imhoff, from San Gabriel, Calif., is a top rebounder and defensive player. Robertson, an Indianapolis product and the all time leading major college scorer, showed during the trials he also can play defense. West, of Cabin Creek, W. Va., does everything and beautifully, and Lucas, a sophomore from Middletown, Ohio, was the key man in the Buckeyes NCAA championship drive.

Newell also has Walt Bellamy, a 6-foot-11 Indiana junior from New Bern, N.C. Lucas said Bellamy was the best player he faced all season. There's Terry Disinger, Purdue's 6-foot-6 Big Ten scoring leader from Terre Haute, Ind., and Jay Arnette of Texas, 6-foot-2 playmaker from Austin. Burdette Halderson, 6-foot-8 ace of the Bartlesville, Okla., AAU team, is the lone repeater from the 1956 Olympic team. He lives at Austin, Minn. Other AAU members are Bob Boozer, 6-foot-8, Peoria Cats from Omaha, Neb., his teammate Al Kelley, a 6-footer from McCune, Kan., and Les Lane, 5-foot-10 speedster from Purcell, Okla., who placed for Bartlesville.

Adrian (Odie) Smith, 6-foot-1 ex-Kentucky sharpshooter, was chosen from the Armed Forces All star team. He comes from Farmington, Ky.

Braves Trip Dodgers 6-4

Cubs Jar Pirates; Reds, Phillies Win

By The Associated Press If things keep up, those Milwaukee Braves are going to steal the scene from Pittsburgh's flopping Pirates and San Francisco's reluctant Giants in the National League race.

The Pirates, once again finding rough going on the road, lost their third in a row, 13-2 at Chicago, Tuesday but retained a one-game lead as the second-place Giants lost 5-1 to Cincinnati. It was the fourth time the Giants have blown a chance to close in on the Pirates in nine days.

Third-place Milwaukee moved within 3 1/2 games of Pittsburgh and went two games up on San Francisco in the lost column with a 6-4 decision at Los Angeles on five unearned runs. The Braves have won six of their last seven games.

Last-place Philadelphia stopped the rallying St. Louis Cardinals 5-3. In the American League, Detroit slapped Baltimore 5-2 and trimmed the Orioles' lead to 1 1/2 games over Cleveland. The second-place Indians collected six unearned runs and won 12-3 at Boston. New York defeated third-place Chicago 5-2. Washington socked Kansas City 7-2.

The Giants, slumping in the clutch, didn't have a hit for 5 1-3 innings against young Jay Hook (5-4) and were shut out on two singles until the eighth. Then Jim Marshall hit a pinch triple and Willie McCovey, benched with Orlando Cepeda for weak work with the bat, singled. Bob Grim finally saved it for Hook, getting Willie Mays on a bases-loaded fly for the final out.

The Reds, six games back in fourth, sent Johnny Antonelli (3-3) to his third defeat with three runs in the second on a walk and singles by Gus Bell, Ed Bailey, Roy McMillan and Billy Martin. Vada Pinson added his sixth home run, off Joe Shipley, in the seventh.

Milwaukee and the Dodgers swapped solo home runs by Del Crandall and Frank Howard, but the Braves cracked the tie with the free five in the fifth. After Crandall singled, two errors loaded the bases and loser Johnny Podres (4-5) then forced in a run by walking Ed Mathews. Two more came in when Podres fielded Hank Aaron's topper and threw wild to the plate. Mel Roach's two-run single clinched it.

The seventh-place Cubs, rolling up 25 runs in two games and 47 while winning four of their last five, stunned the Pirates and Vern Law (8-2) with four unearned runs and a 5-0 lead in two frames. They got five more in the third off Benny Daniels. Ernie Banks, Bob Will and Walt Moryn each had three hits in the Cubs' 16-hit barrage, with Banks driving in four and Will three. Southpaw Dick Ellsworth (3-2) pitched a four-hit shutout until the eighth.

Robin Roberts (2-7) a winner for the first time in more than a month after losing five straight, beat the Cards with a two-run, two-out single in the fourth. He had a shutout until the sixth, when Bill White homered.

OUT OF DOORS with Field & Stream

By RUFUS LIDE

I would like to know the name of the fisherman who caught all those bass at Lake Guilford on May 28. The story goes he caught over 50 and took home a dozen that ran from 12 to 19 inches. Seems I can never be on the spot when a fisherman hits the jackpot like that.

Eddie Jones of Toronto, 12, fishes at Lake Guilford from the time he gets out of bed until bedtime, all day long. He and his buddy whose name I did not learn, ran into a large school of bluegills and came up with a little game of "baseball," one of their own concoctions.

The game is played like this: If a cast was made with no results it was called a strike. To lose a fish after hooking it was a foul. To land a fish was a home run.

I asked him how the game ended and he said, "60 to 21 in his favor." When he is not fishing he can be seen with his pets — a dog, rabbit, cat or pigeon.

I THINK THE OLDEST fisherman I have seen out fishing in many a day is O. M. Dunaway of Salem. His fishing license gave him as age 89. He informed me that he will be 90 on July 30.

A very nice letter from Eric Gudat of Washingtonville informs me that a travel trailer is the thing for fishing and hunting trips as he was one of the campers over the rainy week-end at Lake Guilford. While some campers using tents were shivering, he was "snug as a bug in a rug."

Eric possibly doesn't know a gas lantern provides sufficient heat on the cool nights this time of the year in an umbrella tent. Not only that but you can't take a trail-ly many of these will survive. If they do as well as they did in Deer Creek Reservoir near Alliance, the fishermen should be catching 30 inch "tigers" within three years.

Lake Guilford needs a shot in the arm and this might just be the right stimulant.

PEOPLE WHO HAVE boats on the shore at Zepernick Lake will help a lot if they will place their boats at the mooring cable provided.

These boats are interfering with the mowing operations. Not only that, they kill the grass where they are allowed to remain day and night.

The new boating regulations are lacking in one way — there are no provisions made for the boat capacity. In other words eight people might row around in a boat that was intended to accommodate four persons and not be violating a law except the law of common sense and safety. This must be an oversight by the powers that be.

During the second week of May, San Francisco pitchers had a 67-inning stretch in which they allowed only five runs. Four games were shutouts.

Mile Branch Records First Win

Herron's Rips Orphans 11-1; Marks Rolls Over Theron's 6-2

Herron Transfer combined the long ball with fine pitching to chalk up an 11-1 decision over Orphans in a Class AA softball tilt Tuesday night at Kelley Field.

Marks Landing dumped Theron's IGA 6-2 and Mile Branch broke into the win column for the first time with a 10-4 victory over H. K. Porter Co. in a pair of Class A games played last night.

Jim Barnes and Jerry Weizenicker each hit home runs to highlight a six-run second inning for Herron Transfer in their tilt with the Orphans. Winning pitcher Roger Wyss limited Orphans to just four hits.

Wyss had a shutout going into the fifth inning when Orphans pushed across its only run on hits by Stonemetz and Capel.

Weizenicker, Barnes and Wyss had three hits apiece for Herron's. Capel was two for two at the plate for Orphans.

MARKS LANDING posted its seventh victory in eight games with its 6-2 win over Theron's IGA.

King led off the second inning with a home run for Marks, putting the Guilford Lake team on top to stay.

Theron's made its big threat in the fourth inning when it pushed across two runs on a single by Jack, a fielders' choice and two errors. A snappy double play by the Marks infield pulled pitcher Logue out of the inning without further damage.

Drakulich of Marks and Jack of Theron's each had three hits, including a double. Jack also had a walk. Drakulich fled out to right field in his fourth trip to the plate.

MILE BRANCH left the H. K. Porter Co. all alone in last place by virtue of the Grangers' 10-4 win last night. Both teams went into the fray with identical 0-5 records.

A home run, double and single in four trips to the plate by Schwartzoff wrecked Porter's hopes of breaking into the win column. The first three men up in the second inning for Mile Branch reached base on a walk, an error and a fielders' choice.

Schwartzoff then cleared the sacks with his circuit clout to right field.

Mile Branch collected just seven hits off the offerings of Clarence Beverly but five of them went for extra bases. Six errors by Porter's didn't help Beverly's cause any. Only two of the Mile Branch runs were earned.

Wallace received credit for the victory. He gave up only four hits, fanned one and walked five. Two of Porter's four hits were singles by Jackson.

Hot Stove Leagues

Scott's Sports knocked off previously unbeaten Knights of Columbus Tuesday night at Centennial Park to throw the Class G division of the Hot Stove League into a three-way tie for first place.

Scott's, Bricker's and Fire Department all share the Class G lead now with 3-1 records. K of C tumbled all the way from first place to a tie for fourth with Petrucci's.

There are still three unbeaten Hot Stove League teams. They are Farmers Bank and Fisher News in Class F and Deming CIO in Class E. Fisher News won its fourth straight game last night. Farmers Bank (5-0) and Deming CIO (3-0) were not scheduled.

Class F

Youngstown Kitchens shutout Electric Furnace 6-0 and Fisher News trampled Sekely Industrial 6-2 in Class F games at Memorial Park.

Hilton Moffet tossed the shutout for Youngstown Kitchens, giving up just two hits. He set down 12 Electric Furnace batters on strikes.

Clyde Stoffer provided the heavy stick work. He had two of Kitchens' six hits, including a first-inning home run off starting and losing pitcher Chuck Alexander.

Daye Thomas unloaded two home runs and a double in three trips to the plate to spark Fisher News to its 6-2 win over Sekely.

Rickey Klepper was on the mound for Fisher's. He yielded single runs in the first and sixth innings and pitched his way out of hot water on several occasions. He struck out six and didn't issue a base on balls.

Tom Hall relieved loser Dick Wilt on the mound in the third inning and pitched shutout ball the rest of the way for Sekely.

Jim Morrison collected a double and two walks and Tom Thurber contributed a pair of singles for the winners. Dan Franks clubbed a double for Eljer.

Eljer used four pitchers in the fray with starter Roger Ziegler taking the loss.

Hard-charging Bricker & Bricker won its third straight game after suffering an initial setback by whipping National Cleaners in the other Class G tilt played last night.

Tolson yielded just four hits to K of C. He did fall behind 2-0 in the first inning when K of C chased across a pair of runs on two walks and an error.

Scott's finally tied the score and went ahead in the fifth inning with a three-run outburst. Walks and errors accounted for all three markers.

'RAILROADERS' MEET

The Salem Model Railroad Club was host to the National Model Railroad Association's "greeting car" Sunday at the clubrooms.

The car was run on the club's "Ohio Western Railroad" layout and on several of the members' private layouts.

The greeting car is being sent to club layouts throughout the United States. It will be at the national convention Aug. 24-28 in Chicago. The local club will hold its next meeting Sunday.

Hank Aaron of the Milwaukee Braves led the Class A Sally League in hitting when he played for Jacksonville in 1953. He hit .362 while playing second base.

Old-Timers Help Reds' Hook Chalk Up 5th Win of Year

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Jay Hook, half of the Cincinnati Reds' version of a Kiddie Korps pitching routine, hurled the Reds to a 5-1 victory over San Francisco Tuesday night.

But it took a couple of old-timers—Bill Henry and Bob Grim—to finish up his fifth victory for him. The 23-year-old fireballer had a no-hitter going until the sixth inning.

Two innings later his control faltered. Manager Fred Hutchinson had to call in the firemen.

The first Giant hit was a fluke. Don Blasingame hit an infield bouncer, and Boy McMillan and Billy Martin collided trying to field it.

Off-injured Martin had to leave the game and on the next play, the usually faultless McMillan threw wide to first trying for a double play. But the Giants couldn't break through to score on Hook.

Jim Marshall led off the eighth with a pinch triple and Willie McCovey singled him in for the Giants' only run. After Blasingame singled, Henry took over for Hook and lasted just long enough to hit Willie Kirtland with a pitch, loading the bases.

Grim assumed control and shut down the threat by getting Willie Mays on a flyout.

The Reds weren't extra potent—leaving 14 runners stranded—but they rushed three runs across in the second inning and added a fourth on Vada Pinson's sixth home run of the year in the seventh.

That second inning rally was a prize sample of what the Reds seem to be after in hitting these days—solid base hits, not slugging.

Lee Walls led off with a walk and Gus Bell followed with a single. In short order, singles by Ed Bailey and McMillan put two runs over and sent veteran Johnny Antonelli to a premature shower.

Billy O'Dell took over and got Hook on a forceout, but Martin followed with a single that scored the third run.

Whitey Lockman led off the ninth by being hit by a pitch and singles by pinch hitter Jerry Lynch and Bell scored him.

Today's second of three games here matches the pitching of Jim O'Toole, the other half of the Reds' young lefty-righty mound duo, against potent Mike McCormick. O'Toole seeks to match Hook's 5-4 record by winning. g-Gonzalez lf 0 0 0 0

Tribe Blasts Red Sox 12-3

Losers Commit 4 Errors In Inning

BOSTON (AP) — Vic Power, back in the Cleveland lineup after a seven-day bout with lumbago, led the Tribe's 13-hit assault against the Boston Red Sox here Tuesday night. The Indians trounced Boston 12-3 in a game known in the trade as a "laugher."

Power contributed a home run, a single and sacrifice fly, giving him a total of four RBI. He broke open the game with the homer, snapping a 2-2 tie in the fourth frame.

The laughs were generated by the hapless Red Sox, who gave the Indians six runs by committing five errors, four in one inning.

Four runs in the fourth round were unearned and two in the fifth were an outright gift.

The winner was Jim (Mudcat) Grant, getting his fourth straight victory against one loss.

Grant held the red Sox to eight hits, including homers by Marty Keough and Bobby Thomson. The Bostonians couldn't score a run in any other way.

All except one of the Tribe's runs were off righthander Jerry Casale, the loser.

Keough hit his four-bagger in the third inning with one aboard, but Cleveland got four runs the following inning, two on errors and two on Power's homer.

The Indians scored two more unearned runs in the fifth. Six were scored in the sixth, off Casale and Tom Borland, as a result of six solid hits and two walks.

Jim Perry, seeking his fifth straight victory, and Gary Bell, hoping to break a three-game losing streak, will oppose Dave Hillman and Ike Delock in tonight's double bill.

Bell is returning with two days' rest. Manager Joe Gordon feels that he did not exert himself appreciably in the Sunday's 7-4 loss to Detroit. Bell was relieved in the sixth in that game.

John Temple may be re-activated at third base, instead of second, in at least one game of the doubleheader. His injured right ankle still prevents him from making a quick pivot. Gordon had Temple work out at third in the possibility that he could play that position tonight, thus leaving sure-handed Ken Aspromonte at second.

Temple, who has never played third base in the majors, promised to "give it a whirl."

North Carolina's tennis team won 14 of 16 matches this spring. The Tar Heels bowed to Williams and Harvard by 5-4 scores.

Outdoor Notes

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Educated dogs, litterbugs and violations of the ultra-liberal fishing laws featured outdoor Ohio this week.

All pets are banned from state park camping areas, which led to a letter of protest from a teenager to Division of Parks officials. The youngster urged that dogs with certificates of graduation from obedience schools—his dog has a diploma—be permitted along on camping trips.

One of the division's personnel, after the question had been pondered at length, observed:

"This education thing may be a new solution to an old problem—owners might start following the example of their dogs. But, on the other hand, many persons would hate to have dogs around that are better educated than they are, whether it be in a park camping area, around the house or anywhere else."

The youthful dog owner was advised the rules could not be changed this year, but that the question would come up again before the 1961 season.

Two men who pleaded guilty to tossing empty beer bottles on the ground at the Clouse Lake Wildlife Area in Perry County paid fines and costs of $21 each in a New Lexington court. Another paid the same amount for pulling up a four-foot pine tree and tossing it on a fire.

Wildlife officers are cracking down everywhere on litterbugs, said enforcement chief J. L. Copeland.

Copeland also said that Ohio's fishing laws—just about the most liberal in the land—aren't liberal enough for some folk.

Three men were arrested and fined recently for seining fish in Mercer County's Wabash River. They were using a 16-foot seine in an attempt to take more fish than they could get by legal means. And about the same time a man was arrested in Defiance County for having a wire net fish trap in his car. Possession of the illegal device is a violation of the fishing laws, and the owner was fined.

The Wildlife Division is sending the treasurer's of 53 counties a total of $13,751.32 for school purposes. The payments represent an assess-

Jaycee Golf Tourney Deadline Is Monday

Deadline for entering the Salem Jaycee Junior Golf Tournament is next Monday, reminds Bill Lewis and Earl Miller, co-chairmen of the affair.

The tournament will be held at the Salem Golf Club June 20. The boy who wins the local tournament will earn the right to participate in the state tournament next month at Lima.

The Salem Jaycees will take care of expenses to the state tourney for the Salem winner.

Last year, some 2,500 boys from throughout the United States participated in the Junior Chamber of Commerce golf program.

Many boys have started on the road to professional ranks through this program. A list of Jaycee State champions who have gone on to achieve golfing greatness includes Al Mengert, Gene Littler, Bud Holscher, Doug Sanders, Tommy Jacobs, Phil Rodgers, Jack Rule and current U.S. Amateur champion Jackie Nicklaus of Columbus, O.
